

Training day for medics: Contact lens fitting for ophthalmologists

Saturday May 29, 2010

Dr Sarah Janikoun MB BS DO MRCOphth
Associate Specialist, Guy's and St Thomas' Hospitals

Dr Ursula Vogt MB BS MD
Associate Specialist, Imperial College NHS Health Care
Trust

Mr Vinod Kumar MBChB, FRCS, FRCSEd
Consultant Ophthalmic Surgeon, University Hospital Wales,
and Princess of Wales Hospital

- This training day is part of the British Contact Lens Association's annual Conference & Exhibition.
- Learn about contact lenses and solutions commonly in use, followed by a short introduction on fitting them.
- Discover the uses of bandage contact lenses and their uses in highly specialised conditions.
- Find out more about the treatment and management of contact lens related emergencies.
- Register for the morning ophthalmologists' training course and have lunch and use the afternoon to look around the exhibition halls and to join in with the main conference.

Registration

The Saturday delegate rate, which includes this course, is £145.00 for BCLA members and £195.00 for non members, up to March 12, 2010. Registration for the full four-day conference is £350.00 for BCLA members and £450.00 for non members, up to March 12, 2010.

For more information on the conference, a detailed programme and registration please go to:

<http://www.bcla.org.uk/conference.asp>

British Contact Lens
Association, 34th
Annual Clinical
Conference and Exhibition

May 27-30, 2010

Hilton Metropole Hotel,
Birmingham

BCLA
British Contact Lens Association

7/8 Market Place, London W1W 8AG
Tel: +44 (0) 20 7580 6661 Fax: +44 (0) 20 7580 6669
E: conf@bcla.org.uk www.bcla.org.uk